

François PERBET

I have a university degree in forensic science and criminology, researching electronics and arson.

I'm a certified P.E in fire safety, and a certified Fire Investigation Technician with the International Association of Arson Investigators.

I'm member of IAAI, of the AFEPI (the French IAAI Chapter), and of the E-AFI Chapter of the IAAI.

I'm a volunteer fire-fighter since 1984, first aid and CPR instructor, Fire prevention specialist, and LPG vehicles fires instructor.

I'm also on the International Criminal Court list of experts in the fields of fire-investigation and associated domains (smoke detectors analysis, restoration of CD/DVD).

I've investigated fires ranging from small apartment fires, to large industrial or commercial losses, including fatal fires.
